

A Darker Evolver : 100 programs for Evolver

A Darker Evolver is a bank of 100 programs mostly composed of drones, special effects, pads and sequences but also more traditional sounds like bass, synths, and rhythm. As the title suggests, most of them have a dark and strange character, ideal for the creation of singular and unusual atmospheres, music (techno / minimal, dark ambient), ect ...

Thanks to its analog / digital hybrid architecture and the various types of synthesis available (subtractive, FM, waveguide), the Evolver offers a wide range of sound that goes well far beyond conventional analog sounds. The demo is a faithful illustration of the contents of the bank A Darker Evolver and that is why it is advisable to listen till the end:

- 1) From 0 to 1mn 38s : drones, pads and special effects
- 2) From 1mn 38s to 3mn 30s: sequences and special effects
- 3) From 3mn 30s to 5mn 32s: sequences, drums, basses and special effects
- 4) From 5mn 32s to 7mn 16s : pads, synths and special effects

Note: only the modulation wheel has been used, in order to leave the user to freely determine the relevant parameters that can be assigned.

How to load A Darker Evolver sounds bank in your Evolver

First of all, it is advisable to save the programs of your Evolver by referring to the specific chapter of the manual (page 17 for the Evolver Desktop: MIDI Dump). The A Darker Evolver folder consists of two different format files: Standard Midi File (SMF) and ebp, which is format of the SoundTower Evolver SoundEditor Editor. It is important to note that programs will load into bank 4 of your Evolver.

1) To load the standard midi file into your Evolver, start your sequencer (Cubase, Logic, Ableton, ect ...) and create a MIDI track. Make sure that the MIDI output port of the interface is connected to the MIDI input port of the Evolver and that the channel numbers are the same. Once playback has started, you can follow the numbers of the programs that are being loaded; when the number 128 is reached, your bank A Darker Evolver is loaded and ready to use.

2) To load the ebp file into your Evolver, start the Evolver SoundEditor software and make sure that the MIDI interface selected in the MIDI → MIDI Setup menu is the same that the one which is connected to the Evolver. Then, in the "Program" menu choose "Load Program Bank To" and locate the file A Darker Evolver.ebp in the folder A Darker Evolver on your computer. Once the D bank is loaded, the names of the programs are displayed in the corresponding column, you simply have to send it to the Evolver by selecting in the "Program" menu the command "Transmit Bank → Program Bank D". Once this is done your bank A Darker Evolver is loaded and ready to use.

Note: A Darker Evolver sounds bank is compatible with all Evolver models including Poly Evolver Rack and Poly Evolver Keyboard.
